PhD Research School „Social Trauma in Changing Societies“

International Psychoanalytic University Berlin, Germany
31.10. – 19.11.2021

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The network project “Social Trauma in Changing Societies” (STICS) connects students, researchers and professors from ten universities in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Germany, Serbia and Turkey, building upon results and resources from an intensive nine-year cooperation in the DAAD funded study and research networks “Trauma, Trust, and Memory”, “Migration – Trauma in Transition” and, since 2019, “Social Trauma in Changing Societies”. It strengthens transregional academic cooperation on the frame topic of Social Trauma, which is highly relevant in all participating countries, examining the general connections between societal trauma, psychopathology, and culture.

ABOUT THE RESEARCH SCHOOL

The PhD Research School “Social Trauma in Changing Societies” 2021 will take the form of a three-week international research colloquium situated in presence at International Psychoanalytic University Berlin (IPU), Germany, from October 31 to November 19, 2021.

The Research School aims at the promotion and connection of future young scientists working in the field of Social Trauma. Each of the ten partner universities will identify one PhD student or candidate, who – depending on their availability – will receive a research fellowship for a two- to three-week research stay at the IPU in the aforementioned timeframe. During the joint research period, professors from the STICS network will supervise the participants. Students will have the opportunity to:

- a) be advised and supervised by IPU and network professors who are thematically relevant to them,
- b) network with each other,
- c) where possible, to plan and implement joint transregional networked research projects, such as through data exchange, joint data sessions, and peer reviews,
- d) conduct a regular, partially public doctoral colloquium, and
- e) sharpen their dissertation topic or further develop their previous analysis.
